- Are you in grade 8 or 9 and looking for a fun way to get involved with theatre at Argyle? Well listen up, because today at lunch in the theatre, we will be having the first meeting for the Junior Show 2026! After the success of last year's Junior Show, we cannot wait to do it again. Come to the meeting on today at lunch to learn more. No commitment required after this meeting, just come to learn more about auditions, the play itself and the dates for auditions, rehearsals and productions. There is something for every interest in this opportunity so don't miss out on this grade 8 and 9 ONLY experience. Message Ms. Owens with any questions.
- Do you love coming up with your own stories and want a safe, fun space to do so? Then the Creative Writing Club is the place for you! Come to the library at lunch on Fridays to play games, participate in challenges, learn more, and just write. Open to all grades, no experience required!
- Hey Argyle! Do you want to learn about the brain and have fun along the way? If so, join the neuroscience club in room 223 starting today Wednesday at lunch!
- Heads up, Argyle! During the week of October 6, representatives from three top-ranked universities in Eastern Canada will be here at lunch in the cafeteria. This is your chance to ask questions and learn more about their programs.

Monday, October 6 – Acadia University will be here, and if you bring your transcript, you could even get an admission offer on the spot!

Tuesday, October 7 – Bishop's University

Wednesday, October 8 – Mount Allison University

Don't miss it if you're thinking about studying out east!

- Wednesday, October 22nd marks the Anniversary of Chanie Wenjacks' Passing. Chanie, an Anishinaabe boy sent to residential school at the age of 9, ran away from school at the age of 12 attempting to reunite with his family 600km away. Chanie succumbed to starvation and exposure and was found one week after he fled. His only possession - a small glass jar holding 7 wooden matches. His story as told by 'The Secret Path' will be shared with us through music, image and song Wednesday at lunch in Room 150.

Music and song carry stories - stories of Truth. Each morning this week you will hear songs from a variety of Indigenous Musicians. May you listen with your hearts and minds and work to aid our collective reconciliation through both education and action.

This morning you heard 'Breathless' by William Prince. Prince, a two-time JUNO Award winning Canadian folk and country singer-songwriter, is a member of the Peguis First Nation in Manitoba. His songs are known to convey the power of wonder and humility, to share moments of self-discovery, and to ask hard questions we must face together.

- Hey Pipers, On Oct. 21st, Argyle will be hosting 2 senior games, one for our provincial winning Sr. Boys soccer team at 4pm, and our high-level Sr. Girls Volleyball team at 730pm. To support our fellow Pipers, show up to school in Green and Gold, go to the games, and cheer as loud as you can. GO PIPERS!
- Hey Argyle, The Student Council is hosting the annual Halloween costume contest again, this year the categories are Singles, Group Costume, Staff and Teacher, and finally Homemade. Prizes will be given to the best costumes in each category. If you are interested in signing up, come to the cafeteria at lunch from October 20th to October 24th. If you don't want to compete, show up anyways on October 31st to watch, as members of the Student Council will be throwing candy to the loudest cheers in the crowd. See you then Argyle!

Tuesday, October 21, 2025

- This morning's musical selection was 'Ancestors too Young' by Jeremy Dutcher. Dutcher is a Two-Spirit Wolastoqiyik member of the Tobique First Nation located in New Brunswick.

David McLeod, curator of Speak-Up! shared the following about Dutcher:

"A passion for language, culture and music, and the respect he carries for his Elders, laid a pathway for Jeremy Dutcher to create First Nation music that flows into mainstream culture, inspiring Canadians to have conversations about the country's history and the meaning of reconciliation. As a two-spirit person, he is also an advocate for LGBT rights and recognition."

Interested in hearing more? Jeremy Dutcher will be performing at the Kay Meek Theatre in West Vancouver on Thursday, November 13th.
