

Announcements for Apr. 28, 2026

Today is the National Day of Mourning for workers who have been killed or injured on the job. It's a time to remember those who lost their lives, support those who were injured, and reflect on the importance of workplace safety. Our flags are at half-mast today in their honour.

As many of you begin part-time jobs or will soon enter the workforce, this day is also a reminder that everyone has the right to a safe and healthy workplace. Knowing your rights and looking out for your safety and the safety of others matters.