

Announcements for Dec. 13th, 2019

The Juvenile boys basketball team will play in the consolation final 6pm Friday in the Kitsilano - St. John's tournament.

All senior boys rugby players need to pick up their uniform consent form from Jamie Allan in records today.

The Library will be Closed today (Friday) at lunch for the Lunch with a Scientist Event. Thank you for your understanding

Any students interested in attending a Coast Salish Weaving Exhibit in Granville Island next Monday December 16th, please see Ms. Bumsted in room E101 to sign up.

Library Book Tree Contest: Come check out our Book Tree in the Library and guess how many books form our tree. Guesses will be accepted from Dec 9 - 18. The winning submission will be the most accurate guess and will win an Indigo gift card!

Don't forget Santa's Pancake Breakfast on Friday December 20th from 7:30am to 8:30am in the Agora. Carson staff will be cooking up batches of pancakes, eggs, sausages and hot chocolate. We also have a vegetarian option available. Tickets on sale in the Agora at lunch, $5 in advance, $6 at the door.

Soups and Scarves is back once again, and we want your help! Soups and Scarves is a student-run charity where warm articles of clothing and monetary donations are collected to make food, and give it out to the homeless. Donations of clothing can be dropped in the box in the counseling office or any monetary donations for the food in the main office! We are opening the charity to all interested volunteers next Tuesday at lunch in the engineering room E201! Service hours will be provided.

This is just a friendly reminder for today's Lunch with a Scientist session with Dr. Sara Ejtemaee who received her PhD in physics, specializing in atomic-optical physics, and currently works as a senior experimental physicist at D-Wave Systems. Everyone is welcome. Come to the library today at lunch and learn more about the applications of science through this fun presentation."

Please take a moment to stop by our Gratitude Tree in front of the Library, Carson's jack.org has sponsored this years Gratitude Tree to give students and staff an opportunity to share what they are GRATEFUL for this holiday season. Did you know that the act of GRATITUDE actually improves our own mental health? Christmas decorations are available for you to identify that special someone or something that you are personally grateful for.

A reminder that the final Squamish Dancing class of the year with Bucky will be held in Ms Bumsted's room today after school. We hope to see everyone there.
