

Announcements for Feb. 8th, 2018

The Interact Club Backpack Drive is looking to your block 2 class to collect backpack items for the North Shore Lookout Society. Look to the box in your class for a list of items to be donated!

Are you interested in becoming a Youth Leader within your community? Do you aspire to help those in need? Do you want to learn about food sustainability and its impact for low-income families all while gaining volunteer hours? Take part in this one of a kind 3-day youth leadership program during the first week of Spring Break, hosted by Big Brothers of Greater Vancouver. Learn through hands-on experience about the wonderful community programs that are in place within North Vancouver, and the agencies behind them that strive to bring fresh produce to those in need. Anastasia from Big Brothers will be coming on Thursday, February 15th, during lunch time to talk to students. If you're interested drop by the conference room located next to the counselling office.

Hey Carson ! Ever wanted to battle robots and program apps and games? Join the TEAMS club tomorrow at lunch to learn to 3D print. No experience needed.

Mr. Wong apologizes that homework club is cancelled for today.

Coffeeshouse is back. I repeat, coffeeshouse is back! Come by the theater tomorrow at lunch to see, support and cheer on some amazing and talented performers! Coffeeshouse, TOMORROW, at lunch, in the theater! See you there.

Grade 8/9 girls,
Did you know that UBC and other post secondary institutes are scrambling to increase their enrollment for girls interested in engineering? This is an excellent time to inform yourself about the possibility of a career in engineering. There will be a presentation for all female students interested in taking the engineering course next year this coming Tuesday in room E202 at lunch. Hear from other female students talking about their engineering experiences. Hope to see you there!

Hello grade 10's. This time next week you will be presenting your personal project. There are still a few trifold presentation boards available for sale in Ms. Parkers room D104.

Congratulations to the Jr. girls basketball team for defeating Collingwood 38-33 in the Division 1 championships.
