If your child chooses to bring sports balls to school, please make sure the ball is clearly labeled with their name. Many balls look the same and can get mixed up on the playground. Please take note that balls that go on the school roof require NVSD maintenance staff to get them down so they may not come down for a long time.

Poem in your pocket day

Classes around the school have been working on poetry and as a culmination of National Poetry Month. On Tuesday, April 28th we will celebrate Poetry in Your Pocket Day at Cove Cliff! Students are encouraged to spread joy by sharing poems with others. It is simple, either memorize your favourite poem, or write one on a piece of paper and keep it in your pocket. Poems can be written by students or by another poet. Then ask others, “Do you have a poem in your pocket?” and share! Staff members might have some special prizes to give out, but don’t ask them if they have prizes or they cannot give one to you! We are looking forward to having a fun-filled day of literacy!

Time to be Bear Aware

Spring is here and our furry friends are starting to wander around in our neighbourhood. Please take a moment to read the resources available from the North Shore Black Bear Society. If your children walk to/from school, please make sure you share the Bear Aware information with them and have plans for them to walk with friends or adults.

Asian Heritage Month

Asian Heritage Month, celebrated each May in Canada, is an opportunity for our school community to recognize and celebrate the diverse histories, cultures, and contributions of Canadians of Asian heritage. In 2026, we honour the stories, traditions, and achievements of Asian communities that have helped shape our country and enrich our classrooms. This month also invites us to acknowledge the realities of ongoing racism and discrimination faced by many people of Asian descent, and to reflect on our shared responsibility to stand against prejudice. Through learning, reflection, and celebration, we strengthen our commitment to inclusion, respect, and belonging for all.
