International Day of Women and Girls in Science is celebrated on 11 February to recognize the vital role women and girls play in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM). The day highlights the importance of equal access to education, research opportunities, and leadership in scientific fields. It also aims to break stereotypes, inspire future generations, and encourage policies that support gender equality in science. By empowering women and girls in science, we strengthen innovation and build a more inclusive and sustainable future for all.

Fall in Love With Reading This Month!

The February Reading Challenge started this week! Students who visited the library this week were challenged to fall in love with reading this month. Help remind your child to complete one reading challenge from the handout each day! Submit the completed handout for the chance at winning a prize! All forms must be submitted by February 26th!

National Flag of Canada Day - February 15

At the stroke of noon on February 15, 1965, Canada's red and white maple leaf flag was raised for the very first time on Parliament Hill. On the same day in 1996, National Flag of Canada Day was declared.

Our national flag is a symbol that unites Canadians and reflects the common values we take pride in — democracy, inclusion and equity.

On February 15, let's celebrate 60 years of our Canadian flag!
