

Post Secondary Entrance Requirements: DL Course Deadlines

If you plan to attend UBC next September:

If you are currently taking, or plan to take Distributed Learning courses (e.g., online courses, distance learning, or courses at another school) to meet your admission requirements, include these courses in the list of courses you will complete this year in the 'academic profile' section of the UBC application, and do not provide an in-progress grade.

Completion dates for Distributed Learning courses:

- If you wish to use your Distributed Learning course in the calculation of your competitive admission average, the course must be 100% complete by February 1, 2015 and your Distributed Learning provider/school must submit the final grade to the Ministry of Education so that it appears on your Ministry of Education Student Secure Web in time for you to self-report these grades in March/April.
- Distributed learning courses completed by June 30, 2015 can be used to meet pre-requisites but will not be used in the calculation of your competitive admission average.

If you plan to attend SFU next September:

- 50% of the course must be completed by April 30th. These grades can be self-reported.

If you plan to attend BCIT next September:

- 50% of the gradeable material must be completed and students should be past the mid point of the course. More competitive programs will require course completion: please check the BCIT website

If you plan to attend Capilano University next September:

- 50% of the course must be completed to apply with a mid-term grade. Course completion may be required for more competitive programs as spots are limited: please check the Cap U website

If you plan to attend UVic next September:

- 50% of the course must be done by the time students self-report (between February 15 and March 31). Students should have the course fully completed by the end of June with all their other courses.
