Community Meeting for the Capilano Water Main Project

Metro Vancouver has been undertaking a major regional infrastructure project in your neighbourhood called the Capilano Water Main Project. Installation of the water main is now complete, however, supplementary work is still underway.

Metro Vancouver recognizes the inconvenience caused by the on-going construction and as a result, the project's 7th community meeting has been scheduled for April 27, 2016 to listen to concerns and answer questions.

At the meeting you will:

- Learn about final paving activities
- Hear about traffic management
- Discuss community impacts and construction mitigation measures
- Hear about the new schedule for the valve chamber work on Edgemont Boulevard at Capilano Road
- Have an opportunity to share your interests and concerns directly with the project team
