

Making the Tough Decisions: How to Transition from High School to University

Dan Seneker, Director Student Recruitment & Retention (Bishop's University) with

Dr. Mike Teed, Professor Williams School of Business (Bishop's University)

This presentation is intended to help students navigate the three main university types in Canada, with particular focus on Canada's primarily undergraduate universities and experiences. We will also provide insight on how to use proven human resource techniques and theories to aid in your transition from high school to university.
