SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

Principal's Message

As we settle into the rhythm of the school year, I am proud to see how our staff and students have embraced our key themes of Relationships with Ourselves and Others, with the Land, and with Technology. These guiding principles are helping to shape a meaningful learning environment for all this year.

Last week, our school community took time to reflect on the importance of Truth and Reconciliation. Across classrooms and activities, students and staff engaged in meaningful conversations and learning experiences that centered on the history and ongoing impact of residential schools, as well as the role we each play in reconciliation. This focus continues to be integral to the way we build relationships within our community, honouring Indigenous perspectives and deepening our connection to the land we share.

Our staff has also dedicated much of the early part of this year to fostering strong relationships within the classroom and the broader school community, particularly as we navigate the return to a Linear System. During recent collaborative discussions, we focused on how staff are creating inclusive spaces where every student feels a sense of belonging. We are committed to nurturing these relationships, knowing they are fundamental to building a supportive and thriving school culture.

Additionally, the introduction of the Personal Digital Device Policy has been a topic of much reflection and feedback. Many of our staff have noted a positive shift, with students now having more opportunities to connect with one another and be present with their learning, rather than their devices. This change aligns with our goal of ensuring technology enhances our students' connections and experiences and with our focus on the mental health and well-being of our students.

Looking ahead, we are excited to welcome families to our Parent-Teacher Learning Conferences later this month. These conferences will be a valuable opportunity to build relationships, connect, set shared goals, and establish a collaborative vision for your child's learning journey this year. Together, we want to ensure that every student is supported and challenged in ways that help them grow both academically and personally.

As we move through October, in addition to many other dates and events of significance in October, we will be honouring World Mental Health Day on October 10th and as a community, will continue to reflect on how we support the mental health and well-being of our staff, students, and selves.

Thank you for your continued support - and I look forward to seeing many of you at the upcoming conferences on October 29th.

Kindly,
Meghan Downie

Principal

Celebrations of Learning

Truth & Reconciliation Activities at Seycove

Right: Ava proudly shows off the display created by Social Justice 12 students. The class examined the legacy of the residential school experience and the elements and complexities of Truth and Reconciliation alongside connections to the 94 Calls to Action.

Senior students took part in the "Circle in the Box" workshop delivered by Dallas Guss from the Squamish Nation.

The workshop explains current lateral violence issues and the long term negative impacts of colonization on Indigenous communities.

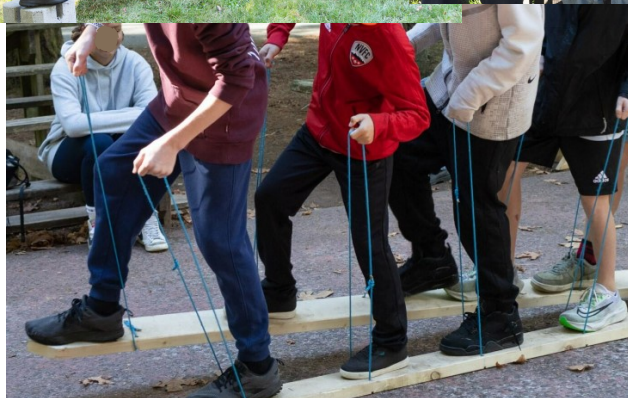

Grade 8 Cheakamus Retreat

Seycove's grade 8 class had an incredible day of teamwork and learning at the Cheakamus Centre last week. The students participated in group games that required cooperation and thoughtful planning. A big thank you to all the staff who dedicated their time for the day and overnight training, as well as to the senior students who spent weeks preparing and training for the event.

The cafeteria buzzed with excitement last week as students explored the many clubs Seycove has to offer. "I didn't know we had a club like Textiles for Change," one student excitedly told her friend. "I've always wanted to learn how to crochet!" From arts and environmental activism to chess strategy and making new friends, there was something for everyone at the fair. Want to learn more about Seycove's clubs? Visit our website for all the details!

Q: What's the top selling food item in the cafeteria?
A: The chocolate chip muffin, of course.

Aleia & Fallon are now hosting the Hawks Nest Supply Cart. The students are offering free pencils and school supplies for their peers.
