

Drama 8

Course Code: MDR-08

Drama 8 students are expected to work cooperatively in groups and with partners and to speak their lines honestly and in a confident, clear voice. Once lines are memorized, students play their scenes on their feet and make clear choices about movement and staging. Students are encouraged to be constructively critical of their own work and the work of others, and expected to participate, with full energy, in acting exercises and improvisational activities. This class finds the joy in acting, and takes the fear out of presenting.
