School Year 2025-2026

COURSE OBJECTIVE

You will:

- Become proficient and knowledgeable users of language, in all its forms, to achieve your personal, social, and career aspirations
- Appreciate language and learning as lifelong sources of joy, curiosity, and passion
- Think creatively, critically, and reflectively about language and texts as part of constructing and communicating personal meaning
- Become critical and ethical users of digital media, capable of adapting to new modes and tools of language use
- Strengthen your understanding of yourselves, diverse cultures, and multiple perspectives through the exploration of First Peoples' and other Canadian and international texts
- Contribute to Reconciliation by building greater understanding of the knowledge and perspectives of First Peoples
- Appreciate the power, beauty, and artistry of language and texts and their impact on personal, social, and cultural life
- Use language to design and share information interpersonally, interculturally, and globally

The general goals of English Language Arts are the enjoyment of literature and the development of thinking, analytic, and communication skills. Speaking, listening, and writing about ideas and issues important to us makes us deeper and more understanding human beings.

UNITS OF STUDY

Unit 2	Question Formulation Technique	Unit 5	Poetry
Unit 3	"Hamlet"	Unit 6	Independent Unit Seminar

EXTENSIONS AND LATE PENALTIES

In order to be granted an extension on any assignment/task, you must (1)request the extension from me no later than two days before the original due date, and (2)receive confirmation from me that the extension has been granted.

Penalties for late submissions are as follows:

1. No feedback will be provided on the submission. (If you want feedback you can come see me during tutorial time.)
2. No re-do opportunity for the assignment in question.

HARD CUT-OFF

Each term has a Review and Completion (R&C) period. Students with outstanding assignments or unmet learning outcomes can attend R&C. As such, R&C periods will act as the hard cut-off date for all assignments due throughout that term. (Ex.: “The Yellow Wallpaper” Essay due in term one will not be accepted once term one is over.)

ATTENDANCE AND CATCHING UP

Attendance is a very important part of success. However, absences are not always preventable. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to come see me at an appropriate time about missed activities/tests/notes and arrange a time to catch up.

To stay on top of things through any absences, you can:

1. Have a classmate’s phone number in order to call them to find out what you’ve missed
2. Send the teacher an email (or Teams’ message)
3. Talk to the teacher before class, during lunch, or after class
4. Check-in with the teacher upon your return for any documents that may have been handed out

CLASSROOM RULES

- Water bottles are permitted, but energy drinks, soft drinks and juices are prohibited
- Snacks/lunches should be saved for the dedicated eating breaks between periods
- Cell phones are prohibited unless otherwise specified by the teacher
- Respect yourself, your peers, your teachers, and your classroom environment
