

Welcome

to the Lucas Open House for the North Vancouver School District Land Management Process

TODAY WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU!

The North Vancouver School District (NVSD) is undertaking a land management process for its land assets to maximize the full potential related to the future of its surplus properties. This land management process has involved extensive engagement with the community, dating back to 2003.

Building on previous work and engagement activities, a process is underway to identify potential future uses, specifically for the Lucas School Site.

Today we want to hear your thoughts.

A 6 month community engagement process will help to:

- inform the community about the project, including opportunities for involvement;
- share information about the land management process and what is possible for the future of the sites;
- obtain public input on priorities - including hopes and concerns - and ideas; and
- communicate how this extensive input has been integrated into land management options.
