Message from the Superintendent

To our littlest learners,

Welcome to the North Vancouver School District! We are excited to embrace you into our school district family. I am certain that our caring staff and students will make you feel at home.

Within our schools we embody the values of trust, respect, responsibility and collaboration. It is through a rich diversity of people, experiences, programs, supports and initiatives that we are able to provide world-class instruction and inspire success for every student. Our schools are strong communities consisting of students, parents, staff and community partners. Our youngest members – our kindergarten students – are not only integral to who we are today as the North Vancouver School District, but are also the ones who will guide us to a meaningful and impactful future. Together we learn, share and grow.

I wish you a successful year as you transition to the milestone of school. I hope that you have fun, learn a lot and truly feel that you are supported and cared for.

Sincerely,

Mark Pearmain
Superintendent, North Vancouver School District

In September, I will begin Kindergarten.
My school is Seymour Heights Elementary.

This is the front of our school.

This is the school office.
There are people here who can help me.

I will have a place to put my belongings.

There are many things to do in Kindergarten.

This is a school washroom.

Sometimes we will go to the gym or other rooms in the school.

Sometimes we go to the library and hear a story or borrow a book.

This is the music room.

We will learn and play outside.

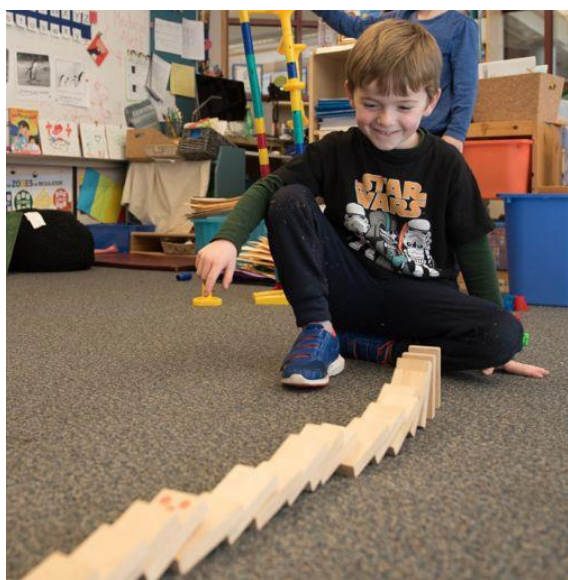

In Kindergarten our teachers help us learn.

In Kindergarten we have many choices.

In Kindergarten we meet new people.

In Kindergarten we eat together.

In Kindergarten we learn to be caring and kind.

In Kindergarten we learn from each other.

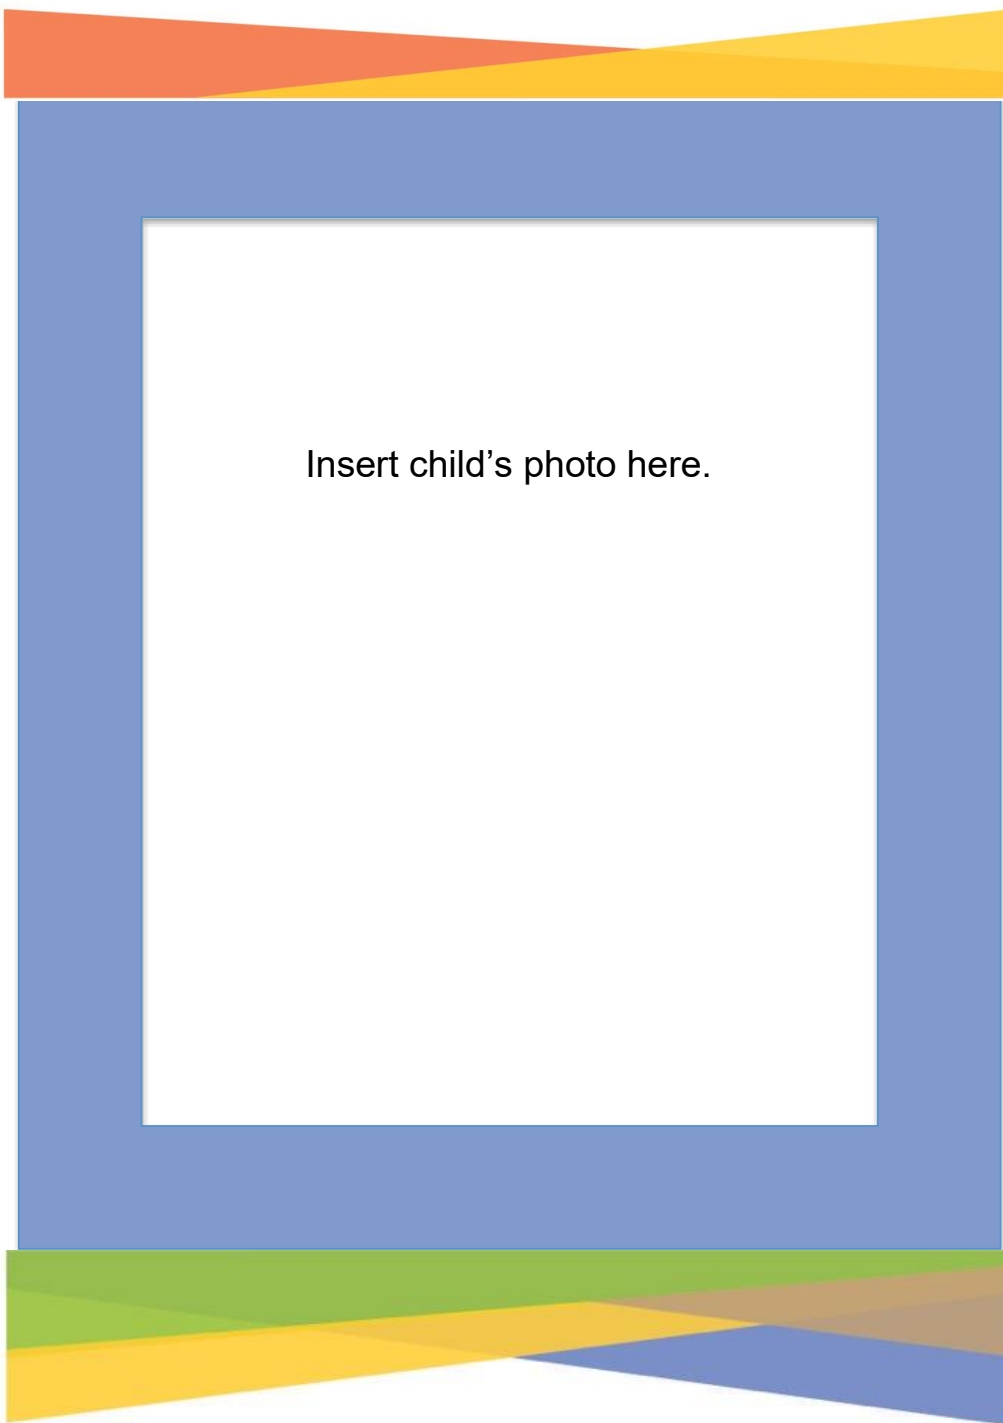

At Seymour Heights Elementary School, I belong.

I am ready for school.
