

Dr. Vanessa Lapointe is an author, parenting educator, and registered psychologist who has been supporting families and children for more than fifteen years. Author of Discipline without Damage: How to get your kids to behave without messing them up, a regularly invited media guest and contributor, educator and speaker, a Huffington Post Parent blogger, and a consultant to research projects and various organizations promoting emotional health and development, Dr. Vanessa is known for bringing a sense of nurturing understanding and humanity to all of her work. She presently works in private practice and has previous experience in a variety of settings, including the British Columbia Ministry of Children and Family Development and the school system. Dr. Vanessa's passion is in walking alongside parents, teachers, care providers, and other big people to really see the world through the child's eyes. She believes that if we can do this, we are beautifully positioned to grow up our children in the best possible way. As a mother to 2 growing children, Dr. Vanessa strives not only professionally, but also personally, to view the world through the child's eyes.

Growing Ourselves

to grow our children

A FREE workshop for parents, grandparents, caregivers, childcare providers and anyone else invested in the well being of young children.

Presented by Dr. Vanessa LaPointe, author of "Discipline without Damage"

District Hall Chambers
North Vancouver
February 28 2017
6:30 to 8 pm

Light refreshments provided at 6pm

Funding generously provided by:

As part of the "Thriving Children from the Inside Out" Speaker Series